LEVEL 1 — AI READINESS ASSESSMENT

The Bystander

“I know AI is important — I just haven’t made it work for my business yet.”

THE GAP: No structured entry point — every AI attempt starts from scratch with no first win to build from.

WHO THEY ARE

Business owners who are genuinely aware of AI’s potential and have almost certainly tried ChatGPT or a similar tool at least once. Their attempts either produced mediocre outputs they didn’t bother using, felt too complex to integrate, or got deprioritised by the relentless demands of daily operations.

They haven’t committed to AI because they haven’t found a starting point that delivered a meaningful first win. They’re not sceptical — they’re waiting for proof that it’s worth the effort. One well-structured prompt that saves them an hour would convert them immediately.

AI READINESS SCORE REPORT

Your score places you at Level 1 — The Bystander. This isn’t a reflection of effort or intelligence. It’s a starting point problem. Most business owners who haven’t made AI work yet tried to start with the wrong tools, the wrong inputs, or no structure at all. The result was outputs they couldn’t use — and a conclusion that AI wasn’t worth the hassle. That conclusion is wrong, but it’s completely understandable.

The fix is a single, high-quality structured prompt for your most time-consuming weekly task. One session, one result, and the case for AI in your business becomes undeniable. Expert AI Prompts is built for exactly this moment: 50 industry-specific, strategically structured prompts that give you your first real AI win — and a system to build from.
